

President Proclaims Nat'l. Newspaper Week

Next week, October 13-19, has been proclaimed as National Newspaper Week by President John F. Kennedy.

The week pays tribute to 1,770 daily and 9,000 weekly newspapers published in this country. It is designed specifically to focus the spotlight on the role the newspaper plays in protecting the people's three great freedoms — Freedom of the Press, Freedom of Religion and Freedom of Speech.

Students in Journalism I will have access to a display of the leading newspapers throughout the country.

This year marks the seventy-sixth anniversary of the American Newspaper Publishers Association. Although the association has been functioning for seventy-six years, the American press has actually been in action since 1690.

The oldest newspaper is the Perkin Gazette, which was first issued about 1340. The earliest American newspaper appeared in Boston, on September 25, 1690. The editor titled it the "Publick Occurrences." The daily newspaper originated in Philadelphia in 1784. This is the paper that printed Washington's Farewell Address.

From these first early papers has come our modern day newspaper. Whether it be daily, weekly, bi-weekly, or monthly, from a city, church, or school, newspapers have only one purpose, to inform the public. Newspapers have made the greatest change in our American way of life.

D. E. Students Work In Various Stores Throughout City

Twenty-eight students, who are interested in entering business upon graduation, are enrolled in the Distributive Education classes under the direction of Mr. James Fallace. This program enables students to work in various stores in the city while studying half day at school.

Distributive Education is the newest of the vocational programs in retailing, wholesaling and study of the occupations in the field of distribution. It has been made possible through co-operation between business firms and the school.

David Lammons, Russell Johnson and Tim Spicer are training for the oil industry at local service stations. Russell Johnson is also president of the local chapter of the Distributive Club of America. Linda Kormette is working in the merchandise control department of a local department store. Don Pearson is training in the food industry at a local supermarket.

Students who are interested in the program may enroll in the Fundamentals of Distribution class in their junior year. The class includes merchandise information, buying and selling merchandise, retail arithmetic, store location, layout and organization, accounting and control personnel, management and sale promotion. These studies are necessary for the students who wish to participate in the program during their senior year.

The senior year covers on the job training. Students work three or more hours each day following an hour class at school where they work on individual study guides pertaining to their particular type of business.

Editors Attend Seminar Given By Chicago Tribune

Gee Gee Burcham, Philosopher editor, and Martha Burches, page editor, attended the Chicago Tribune's fourth annual seminar for newspaper editors in McCormick Place last Saturday. All high school editors in the Chicago area were invited.

Each student attended three of the six workshops conducted by editors, reporters, copy readers and photographers on the Chicago Tribune. The workshops offered were news and feature writing, copy reading and make-up, photography and use of photos, editorial writing and policy, production and printing, and sports writing.

Oracheff Wins Semi-Finalist In NMSQT; Two Receive Letters Of Commendation

Richard Oracheff was recently notified that he is a semi-finalist in the 1963-64 National Merit Scholarship Competition. Two other senior students received letters of commendation. They are Gee Gee Burcham and Edmund Majeski.

The test was given in more than 16,500 high schools last March, with 13,000 seniors reaching the semi-final stage. This group consists of the highest scorers in each state and in United States territories.

The winners will receive a four year scholarship to the college or university of their choice. A maximum of $6,000 can be obtained for the four years of school. A list of the remaining semi-finalists and other high scorers will be sent to many colleges throughout the United States. These people may be eligible for scholarships offered by certain schools. Since its founding, the NMSC and its sponsors have contributed more than 17 million dollars to students.

Established in 1955, with grants from the Ford Foundation and the Carnegie Corporation of New York, it aided 7,500 Merit Scholars. In 1962, the Ford Foundation announced an additional grant to continue the program through 1970.

Merit Scholars will be announced about April 23, 1964.

Students To Elect New Class Officers

Students will vote for class officers during their homeroom period next Wednesday.

Responsibility and good character are among the qualifications determining the eligibility of a student to run for class officer. He must also have an academic average of "B" for the previous semester of school and no mark below "C."

Last week there was a special homeroom meeting to elect members of the nominating committees. Two representatives were chosen from each homeroom. Students elected to serve on this committee were required to have had at least a "C" average the preceeding semester.

Temporary chairmen for the nominating committees were Mr. Reinhardt Tauck, freshmen; Mr. Gino Burelli, sophomores; Mrs. Jeanette Hady, juniors; and Miss Rzepka and Miss Gwinn, seniors.

Simplicity Pattern Company Presents Teen Style Show

The Simplicity Pattern Company will present a style show next Tuesday at 2:20 in the main auditorium. Miss Juanita Gray, Simplicity's Educational Stylist, will narrate the program.

Girls from the sewing classes will model selections designed for the teenager. The audience will see many of the new looks appropriate for school and dateline wear.

Mrs. Pearl Krueger is in charge of the program.

City Of Gary Observes Fire Prevention Week

During the past week, the city fire department and the Gary Post-Tribune have been observing National Fire Prevention Week.

Official observances began Monday with the kick-off banquet which took place at No. 1 fire station. Approximately 150 community leaders from schools, churches, civic groups and business attended the luncheon which was culminated by a parade down Broadway with the fire apparatus on full display.

Poster and Essay Contests

In connection with the week's activities, poster and essay contests were sponsored.

The fire department sponsored a poster contest in four grade levels in the

Miss Street Plans Indiana College Night For Next Tuesday

Miss Violet Street, guidance counselor, announced that College Night will be next Tuesday for college-bound juniors and seniors. Students interested in attending Indiana State, Purdue, Indiana University, Ball State or St. Joseph's College are invited to come with their parents to school at 7:00 p.m.

Dr. Robert Shaw will answer questions pertaining to Indiana State. Mr. Millard Tacket will confer with students interested in Purdue University. Mr. Clum Bucher and Mr. James Yarlning, from Ball State Teachers College, will talk with students seeking information about these schools. Mr. Theodore F. Takomecki, a representative of St. Joseph's College, will answer questions of interested students.

College Boards

Juniors and seniors will be taking College Board Exams December 7, January 11, March 7 and May 2. These tests are prepared by the College Board and are given under the supervision of Miss Violet Street.

The Scholastic Aptitude Test, which is designed to measure how well verbal and mathematical skills are developed, will be given on the same date. The Achievement Test, given in the afternoon, covers the areas of English composition, Spanish, German, French, social studies, chemistry and physics. The scores from the tests are sent to the specific college or university selected by the students.

public and parochial schools. Trophies and cash prizes will be awarded to the winners.

Seniors in public and parochial high schools participated in an essay contest sponsored by the Gary Post-Tribune. The subject of the essay was "Why Fires Should be Prevented."

The winner will receive a desk set and his school will receive the Richard Haussman traveling trophy. This trophy is given in honor of Richard Haussman, a former Gary fireman, who was killed in the Jackson Restaurant fire December 17, 1956. Certificates will be given to the writers of the three best essays submitted from each school.

Assistant fire chief, Joseph Erdelak, is in charge of Fire Prevention Week.

Who's To Blame - Parent Or Teen?

During the last decade a great national flurery has been created over the "beat generation." In almost every magazine or newspaper one can find the statistics concerning the latest rise of juvenile crime and delinquency.

It seems that the prime subject for discussion in magazines or around the coffee pot is the recent "fad" in the teen-age set.

'Midst all this gaping and discussion, the real problems of the teenager are rarely revealed. It is our opinion that the basic need of every teen is guidance. This guidance SHOULD be provided by parents, teachers, — all adults. Guidance in this sense does not mean instructions, but example.

A prominent illustration of this would be smoking. Teens are informed of its ill effects and warned against it, yet everywhere parents and respected individuals of the community smoke. This is also true of drinking.

In high school and colleges throughout the country, extra-curricular activities are encouraged for the well-rounded person. In several cases in our own school and community, interested and willing students have found and are finding very difficult to secure the guidance and leadership they seek. In some cases club sponsors and civic leaders give their time and talents very willingly, at some sacrifice. Sadly enough, they are in a minority.

It is not our purpose to shift all the blame for all teen-age problems to adults, but 75% of the blame already rests with the older generation. Nor, are we saying that the adults owe us a recreation center or supervised social activities. We are saying that the adults owe us guidance — by showing us, not simply by telling us.

However, the real problem rests with the teens, for they must find the right kinds of guidance and learn to "do as they say, not as they do."

A Job Well Done

Loud and long were the exclamations of praise a few weeks ago when the student body saw the displays and posters advertising Homecoming. Not for many years has such enthusiasm and school spirit been shown by the student body.

This show of school spirit was not reserved to Homecoming Week only, but has continued for all games.

We feel that all this hard work deserves a pat-on-the-back, so a hearty "thank you" goes to all the Booster Club members.

Special recognition should be given Booster Club president Gloria Chiabai and her co-workers Joyce Boor, Kathy Campbell, Virginia Ballarino, Elaine Kouvelas, and Sharon McQuaid. It would be impossible to name all but the committee heads, for many, many have helped.

To all those who have worked so hard, we say "thank you" for a job well done.

Miss Padol Experiences Student Teaching

Teaching senior English is a new experience for student teacher, Miss Delores Padol, who is under the supervision of Miss Angela Hannagan, twelfth grade teacher.

Miss Padol was graduated from Calumet High School in 1960. During high school she was a copy editor for the yearbook and wrote for the student paper. She received a senior English award given to one outstanding senior.

Ode To A Detour

Once it seemed a long, long way
From the markets of Europe to Cathay.
It puts the merchants in a flurry
Since the middle-men were in a hurry;
So Christopher Columbus decided to show
A shorter and cheaper way to go.

All of us know when his ships touched ground
It wasn't the Orient that they found;
Oh, dismal tidings of dismay!
The American continent lay in the way!
Columbus was certainly thought a dunce,
Since China was reached after five years, not months.

But that didn't spoil things in the least
It didn't detract from the Pilgrim's feast;
It didn't temper the Puritan's tenets;
It didn't stop the Yankee's pennants;
It didn't veto the Senate and the House;
It didn't decapitate Mickey Mouse.

It didn't hinder writers and such;
It didn't really mess up much.
It almost merits praises choral,
For even leaving us with a moral:
Sometimes, in the ultimate test
The shortest distance is not the best.

Making The Grade

The lazy student was complaining to his instructor. "I don't think, sir," he said, "that I deserve an absolute zero."

"Neither do I," replied the teacher, "but, after all, it's the lowest grade I'm permitted to give."

Salutations students! It's the General again. Generally speaking, I have been doing fine these past weeks. My lumbago hasn't been bothering me as much since I've been taking the pills that THOMAS THOMAS and BOB SHEP-TAK made for me in chemistry.

Does everyone realize that next week is already the last week of the grade period? TOM MILTEER, DAVE OLSON and JOE STARK do and are making no plans for this weekend. They are going to spend all of their time studying for grade period exams.

Many seniors are planning to attend College Night next week in order to become better acquainted with the schools they want to attend.

SANDY McNEIL is hoping to get a scholarship to the Air Force Academy in Colorado Springs, Colorado. DAVE HORBOVETZ is still trying to convince Sandy that it is impossible for a girl to attend a military school.

Some cautious students have been worrying about my wooden picture frame. CAROLYN MALLARS, PAM BUZUVIS and CAROL OLSON feel it is a hazard and something should be done about it before Fire Prevention Week is over. They are planning to buy some fireproof shellac and paint my frame so that I will be safe.

JON FORGEY, MIKE HORN and JOHN HADY are busy writing their essays on fire prevention for the observance of the week. The boys still don't know that these essays were due two weeks ago.

CAROL GERSACK, MARTHA WARD, HARRIET SEIGLE and CINDY PIET are planning a big celebration for Columbus Day, which is tomorrow. They are going to dress like Columbus and his crew and rent a boat (they couldn't afford to rent three.) The girls asked me if I would join them and be their navigator, but I was afraid that my rheumatism is too bad to allow me to row a boat.

Since National Newspaper Week is coming up shortly, several students are planning to put out their own publication. JEANNE ALLMAN, MARY VASSALO and PAM WILK say their paper will be six pages long, contain colored pictures and have no advertising. The only drawback is that each paper will cost $2.50.

I'm signing off for now until next issue as the arthritis in my right hand is beginning to bother me.

Voice Of The Student

Dear Editor,

A lot of time and effort was spent on the Homecoming decoration this year. That time was well spent. The display, signs, and posters were some of the best we've had for many years. Without these decorations, Homecoming just wouldn't be Homecoming. I'd like to thank all the students who worked on the decorations.

CAROL CLEMENT

Dear Editor,

Down with club members who don't go to meetings!" is my motto. If you're going to join a club, why not take an active part in what has been planned? If you don't, then that club is not for you.

If you wonder why a certain club is run by a specific group, it is because they take a genuine interest in the club and what it stands for. So think before you join a club, and after you join, attend!

PAULA WEEKS

Dear Editor,

I would like to make a suggestion to the student council. I wonder if they could do something about the congestion in the first floor hall near the west stairs, and the jam in the study halls during the passing periods. It is almost impossible to get to class in time.

Campus News*Entire Senior Class To Nominate Future Homecoming Queens

It was decided at a recent Student Council meeting that future candidates for Homecoming queens will be nominated by the entire senior class.

Gee Gee Burcham, senior, was appointed to head a committee to arrange the nominating procedures. Other members of the committee are Charlene Costo, junior; Sid Spector, sophomore; Dan Wozniak, freshman; Pam Buzuvis, sophomore; Pam Wilk, junior; and Mary Markowicz, sophomore.

Future plans of the Council include a revision of the constitution.

French Club

A potluck in November and a Christmas party for December were discussed at the Les Parisiennes initial meeting. New officers were also elected at the meeting.

Serving as president is Diane Firme. Assisting her are Mary Vassalo, vice-president; Pat Grainger, secretary; and Barbara Blash, treasurer.

ROTC

Frank Zark and Dan Draia have been elected by the first year cadets in ROTC to serve on the ROTC Honor Council. The new members will represent the first year cadets in all matters pertaining to ROTC functions. Two new members are selected from the first year cadets each year and serve for three years.

Current members are first year cadets, Frank Zark and Dan Draia; second year cadets, Bill Carper and Joe Nicholson; third year cadets, Terry Davis and Bill Fagg.

Chess Club

More tournaments and more competition are part of Chess Club's future plans. According to Steve Bartosh, re-elected president, new members will not have to be initiated as formerly. Meetings are tentatively scheduled for Mondays.

New officers are Vincent Daniels, vice-president; Jean Kadish, secretary; and John Modos, treasurer.

Spanish Club

Tira Yermack, senior, was elected president of the Spanish Club at their last meeting. Serving with her will be Elaine Kouvelas, vice-president; Gee Gee Burcham, secretary; and Rita Mireles, treasurer.

Future projects for the club include re-writing the constitution by the officers, a pinata during the Christmas holidays, and raising funds to help a needy student in Mexico.

Olympians

A typical Roman challenge was the method used by the Olympians to initiate new members.

Joyce Pankiewicz, Allen Kepchar, were administered the pledge. Also inducted by the council supremus, Bob Zimmerman, were Rich Mostak, Francine Foler, Georgene Makivich, Carol Dillman, Sid Spector, Linda Durbin, Donna Larkin, Ronald Eimer, and Mrs. Mary Shalgren.

New officers for the Latin Club include Georgeann Mandich, consul secunda; Judy Feinberg, scriba; Karen Hiland, quaestor; Heather Hardie and Sandy Taylor, aediles; and Linda Watkins, princeps cibi.

Twenty Juniors And Seniors Participate In Joe Berg Seminar

Attend Courses At Mann, I.U. Extension On Wednesday Nights

Twenty juniors and seniors will participate in the Joe Berg seminar program by attending classes every Wednesday evening at Horace Mann High School and the Northwest Campus of Indiana University.

New participants in the program are juniors, Phil Beal, Susan Ernst, Diane Firme, Mary Simons, Kathleen Smith, Mary Vassalo, and Ihor Woloshansky. Other juniors who will attend are Marsha Bradon, Louise Lasayko, Terry Nicksic, and John Shinovich. New senior participants are Tira Yermack and Gee Gee Burcham.

Admission

Admission is based on ability and achievement tests, interest in the program, recommendations of school personnel, and performance on an aptitude test administered to all applicants under supervision of the admissions committee. Applicants are expected to have and to maintain a scholarship average of at least "B" for their high school courses.

Returning seniors are Bill Dinwoodie, Ed Majeski, Georgeanne Mandich, Richard Oracheff, Linda Orlich, Frank Panchak, and Pete Vasil.

Seminars

Ihor Woloshansky will attend the chemistry classes; Pete Vasil the mathematical courses; and Bill Dinwoodie, Edward Majeski, and Frank Panchak the classical literature seminar. Georgeann Mandich and Richard Oracheff will participate in the physics and astronomy seminar. Psychology classes will be attended by Phil Beal, Susan Ernest, Diane Firme, Mary Simons, Kathleen Smith, and Mary Vassalo. Spanish participants are Marsha Bradon, Gee Gee Burcham, Louise Lasayko, Terry Nicksic, Linda Orlich, John Shinovich, and Tira Yermack.

The instructors for the courses are volunteers from industry, business, and education. Mr. Jesse Mejia, Spanish teacher at Wallace, will lead the Spanish group.

First Meeting

The first general meeting was to acquaint new members and their parents with the purposes of the program.

Mr. James W. Halley, manager of research at Inland Steel Corporation, spoke on the "Role of Research in the Coming Generation."

Also, several participants in the Indiana University Honors Program in foreign languages gave brief summaries of their summer. They were Charles Coleman, Roosevelt; Neil Goldman, Horace Mann; and Mary Chulak, Wirt.

Calumet And Gary Campuses Consolidate; Gary Campus Theatre Starts Third Year

Mr. Elvis J. Stahr, Jr., president of Indiana University, recently announced the consolidation of Indiana University's two Lake County regional operations, the Gary Campus and the Calumet Campus in East Chicago. It will be known as the Northwest Campus of Indiana University and will serve the entire northwestern section of the state.

Dr. John C. Buhner, director of the Gary Campus, will be in charge of academic and related responsibilities. He will have the title of assistant dean and director of academic administration.

Dr. Harold E. Burns, who heads the Calumet Campus, will be in charge of physical plant development, budgetary and related matters and have the title of assistant dean and director of planning and operations.

Louise Lasayko, former secretary-treasurer of the Biology Club, is a candidate for secretary of the Indiana Junior Academy of Science.

Every high school science club chartered by the Academy has one vote. Results of the election will be announced tomorrow at the state-wide meeting at Goshen College.

Inkpot Literary Organization Inducts Seventeen Members

Seventeen new members were inducted into Inkpots Tuesday at the home of Sharon McQuaid, president. The main business was the discussion of a trip to Chicago in the future and the reading of the constitution.

New senior members are Gee Gee Burcham, Martha Burches, Gloria Chiabai, Lynn Drozda, Jan Felton, Sandy McNeil, Janette Opsitnik, Harriet Siegle and Elaine Kouvelas.

Juniors inducted were Jeanne Allman, Carol Buhner, Carol Clement, Linda Durbin, Mary Jancose, Martha Krampe, Cheryl Rudavina and Mary Stanzione.

Each new member wrote a composition on a subject of her own choice. New members were first approved by English teachers and then voted on by the members.

Miss Sandra Uland is the sponsor.

At the end of the Hammond game the Hornets leave the field defeated but not dejected.

Sidelines . . .

Tonight the Hornet gridmen meet the perennial football powers from Hobart. Coach Russell Deal and his Brickies have long been one of the strongest football aggregations in this part of the state. Coming only a week after the Hammond game makes the task even more difficult. None of the gridmen has forgotten last year's score and are confident that tonight it will be reversed. After a slow start the Hobart gridmen came back strong and defeated a powerful Michigan City team 14-7.

Next week the rugged schedule of the Wallace football team takes them to Tolleston. The Raiders are not quite as big as some years in the past, but they make up for it in speed. The Tolleston record thus far is not too impressive but their scoreless tie with Horace Mann shows a resurgence that is likely to be at its peak by the time October 18 rolls around.

I. M. Grubby Reports Gridders' Activities After Homecoming And On Trip To Purdue

Hello there! Here I am again, I. M. Grubby, the H2O man for the Wallace gridders. Now that the football season is in full swing, a lot has been happening and here I am to report the gossipy goodies

The other day, ends George Kos, Steve Buha, Sonny Armato, Tom Herbert, and Onie Penzato presented their fellow pass receiver Joe Martin a trophy for being the most modest guy on the team. It seems "Chops" has won the title unanimously; however, there had been only one candidate and he had put himself up. After assuring the boys that they had made the right decision, Joe gave a speech from the top of his locker, telling us his many fine virtues.

Seemingly unaware of these happenings was Dan Sharp who was making a speech of his own to Don Dulla.

Chuck Pazera, Dan Orlich and Ken Ortosky. When I asked what he was doing, he replied that he was teaching them some games he had learned from some younger friends of his.

I was kept pretty busy after the homecoming game too. Skip Davis had a little trouble remembering where he was. It seems he suffered a slight concussion when he ran through the football at the beginning of the game.

After caring for him, I heard a loud commotion coming from the showers. Upon investigating, I found Jerry Adank flat on his back. I guess "Slew-foot" had slipped on a bar of soap while demonstrating his quick getaway on a trap block.

I heard a wailing sort of sound coming from behind one of the lockers. Thinking it might be a rabid cat or something, I approached the locker with a large stick, only to find Gary Wilk sitting there singing, "I HAD IT RIGHT ON THE TIPS OF MY FINGERS."

I was supposed to administer a whirlpool bath to one of the guys, but when I went to use it, I found it filled with a large number of banana peels. I later found out that since the boys were in such high spirits, Stan Horvath had gotten the brainstorm of treating the boys to bana malts . . . I guess Stan thought the whirlpool was a giant mixer.

It was this part-time reporter's great pleasure to go to a Purdue intra-squad game with Coach Herbert and four clowns; the Hurey brothers (Punch and Judy), Dennis Barlow and Skip Davis. However, it was also my misfortune to be the smallest one. On the way to the Boilermakers' campus I was forced to ride squashed between about 600 lbs. of Hornet flab.

The game was of interest to us all, especially Denny, who got a "kick" out of their 85 yard punter. Rick complained that it was kind of hot, so we suggested that he take his letterman's jacket off and we also suggested strongly that he quit telling the Purdue girls that the W stood for Wisconsin, lest he be heard by the Purdue coaching staff.

Well, I've run out of space, so . . .

Hornets Bow Honorably To Top State Team

Friday night the Hornets lived up to Coach Herbert's prediction that they would give Hammond all it wanted, despite the final score. Although the Wildcats came off with a 41-13 conference victory, the Hornets were in contention, 27-13, as the final quarter got underway.

Herbert employed a gambling attack all the way, using quarterback Frank Lazzaro on 28 passes and running on fourth-down plays in his own territory.

Hammond's all-state quarterback, John Boyajian, set up the first score in the opening period by passing 47 yards to Chuck Duncan. Boyajian then went over from a yard out.

Lazzaro hit halfback Tom Thomas with a perfectly executed screen pass and Thomas went 58 yards for Wallace's first TD and cut the margin to 7-6.

Gary Love, halfback, ran 25 yards and caught a pass for 17 to set up Duncan's two yard plunge, making it 14-6. Moments later, the Hornets fell short at their 43 yard line and Boyajian passed to Duncan who went all the way.

On the opening kickoff of the second half, Tom Miller recovered a "Cat" fumble. On the first play from scrimmage Lazzaro dropped an aerial to end Joe Martin for a 46-yard TD.

Hammond then recovered a Wallace fumble and marched from Wallace's 23 to the 1 yard line where Boyajian again scored.

Hammond marched 76 yards for its fifth TD and "Cat" reserved collaboration for the last one.
